

Meet Kelly

Kelly brings warmth and enthusiasm to every session, helping children find their voices and grow in confidence. She earned her undergraduate degree from Auburn University and her master's in Speech-Language Pathology from the University of Tennessee Health Science Center.

In addition to treating patients in our clinic, Kelly also works in the Cobb County School District, where she supports children with a wide range of speech and language needs. She specializes in early language development and articulation, and loves making therapy fun, engaging, and full of laughter.

Outside the clinic, Kelly enjoys spending time with her new puppy, Ivy, as well as reading, relaxing with friends and family, and catching up on her favorite TV shows.
