

Meet Samantha

Samantha is a highly experienced and dedicated Speech Language Pathologist. Originally from New Jersey, she made the move to Georgia in 2011 and has since become an integral part of the speech therapy community. With 12 years of experience in the field, Samantha has strengthened her expertise through diverse settings, including clinical, educational, and medical environments. Samantha's academic journey began with a Bachelor of Science in Communication Disorders from Towson University in 2009. She furthered her education by earning a Master of Arts in Communication Disorders from Long Island University, C.W. Post, in 2011. She obtained her State of Georgia licensure and her possession of a Certificate of Clinical Competence from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA). Her love of working with children is fulfilled in Early Intervention as well as serving the Autism population. Samantha completed training for the PROMPT method, Beckman Oral Motor, the SOS Feeding Approach, and the Gestalt Language Processing Approach. Outside of her professional pursuits, Samantha finds joy in spending quality time with her husband, Nathan, and their three daughters. Samantha's extensive experience, commitment to professional growth, and nurturing nature make her a highly qualified Speech Language Pathologist.
